REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The amendment filed 7/9/2007 has been entered. Claims 1, 10, 13 have been cancelled. Claims 2-9, 11-12, 14-21 are pending in this Office action.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 2-9, 11-12, 14-21 are allowed.

3. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: Hanada et al and Rod et al fail to disclose wherein the first acquisition engine is adapted to select the code phases as part of a respectively selected set of a code phase and a frequency employed for a frequency compensation of the received code modulated signal, the first acquisition engine providing information on each selected set, and wherein the second acquisition engine is adapted to perform the refined comparison between a received code modulated signal and an available replica code sequence for the code phase of each set on which information is received and with a frequency compensation of the received code modulated signal using the frequency belonging to the respective set as recited in claim 1. Hanada et al and Rod et al also fail to disclose wherein the network comprises a processing unit for processing at least results of the refined comparison in the second acquisition engine in order to acquire a received code modulated signal as recited in claims 11-12. Hanada et al and Rod et al further fail to disclose wherein selecting the code phases comprises selecting a respective set of said code phase and a frequency employed for a frequency compensation of the received code modulated signal, and wherein performing the refined comparison comprises comparing the received code modulated signal and the available replica code sequence for the code phase of each selected set and with a frequency compensation of the received code modulated signal using the frequency belonging to the respective set as recited in claim 14.
